Notes Of The Capital

Honolulu—Fusion of the two factions of the Democrats is the talk and a love feast is reported to be near. Which side is to yield is not in the forecast. The organization meeting will be held tomorrow. Date of ratification meeting will be determined by the committeemen.

Senator Shafroth has delivered to the President the resignation of Judge Stuart.

The Ad Club will have a Civic Convention rally at the Young Hotel tomorrow.

Honolulu—George N. Wilcox, of Lihue, Kauai, gives $50,000 for a Boys' Home under the auspices of the Salvation Army to be located in beautiful Manoa valley. Other big hearted people have given the land for the site. Seventy-five homeless boys are to be taken into the institution and made into good citizens. A model farm will be a feature of the home.

It has been decided that Oriental vessels arriving here are not exposed to cholera.

Two laborers were killed and eleven injured in a car smashup at Oahu plantation yesterday. The work train, carrying the laborers, was homeward bound and smashed into a string of empty cars. Lack of proper lights is said to have been responsible for the accident.

Oliver Paakabali, mate of the steamer Maui, of the Ahukini route, was shot and killed last night by a package boy named Taakinui S. Takashi. A dispute over an alleged gambling debt ended in a fatal quarrel in a restaurant. King street crowds witnessed the death of the sailor. The Japanese was arrested and found to be slightly wounded on the breast.
